Provincial Election Survey

April 3, 2019

PREPARED BY:

OPINION RESEARCH

Methodology

- Survey questions were administered between March 25 to March 30, 2019 to a sample of 900 Albertans, ages 18 and over. The margin of error for this sample of 900 people is plus or minus 3.3 percentage points, 19 times out of 20 (i.e., at a 95% confidence interval).

- Surveys were conducted using our "True Random Sample, Hybrid Delivery (TRS-HD)" methodology. This approach involves live telephone interviewers initially contacting respondents at random, and giving them the option of answering the survey over telephone at that time, answering over the telephone at a more convenient time, or receiving the link and answering the survey on-line.

- The initial sample list contains approximately 50 percent landlines and 50 per cent cellphones. Interviewers make up to five attempts to reach each phone number in the sample before classifying it as unreachable.

- All surveys were conducted by qualified interviewers working out of Trend Research's centralized CATI facility in Edmonton. Field supervisors were present at all times to ensure accurate interviewing and recording of responses.

- The interviewing staff at Trend receives extensive training on the proper administration of interviews and are closely monitored by supervisors. A minimum of 10 per cent of each interviewer's work was unobtrusively monitored for quality control.

- This methodology is designed to maximize the response rate in order to ensure a wide cross-section of Albertans are surveyed, as opposed to just highly engaged Albertans. The response rate for this survey was 17 per cent. In other words, 17 per cent of people called agreed to complete the survey. Another 15 per cent declined to complete the survey, and 68 per cent did not answer.

- Data presented in this report may not add to 100 per cent due to rounding.

Most Important Issue

(top mentions)

	Economy	Pipelines / energy industry	Employment / jobs	Health care	Education	Deficit / gov't spending	Taxes	Environment
Single most important issue	27%	20%	17%	3%	4%	4%	2%	3%
Total issues mentioned	35%	35%	28%	23%	20%	9%	9%	8%

■ Single most important issue   ■ Total issues mentioned

In your opinion, what is the SINGLE most important issue facing Alberta today? / What other important issues are facing Alberta today?

The survey began with an open-ended question about the single most important issues facing Alberta today. This was followed by a question about other importance issues. Pre-coded answers were not provided. Instead, the answers given were recorded verbatim, and later classified by trained coding staff.

The most common top-of-mind issues mentioned include the economy (27%), pipelines and the energy industry (20%), and employment and jobs (17%). In fact, more than six in ten Albertans (64%) mention one of these as the single most important issue facing the province. Other issues were mentioned on a top-of mind basis by four per cent or fewer.

Looking at total mentions, the economy (35%), pipelines (35%) and jobs (28%) remain the top concerns. But health care (23%) and education (20%) emerge as important secondary concerns.

Leader Approval

Albertans' evaluations of the party leaders are very polarized. Just under half (47%) approve of Rachel Notley, with a similar proportion (48%) disapproving. Only one in twenty (5%) are unsure. The situation is similar for Jason Kenney: 44 per cent of Albertans approve, while 42 per cent disapprove. One in seven (14%) are unsure.

The leaders of other parties are struggling for recognition. Just under half (47%) are unsure how to evaluate Stephen Mandel and just over half (56%) are unsure of David Khan.

Approval of Rachel Notley is particularly strong among:
- Those with a post-graduate (68%) or bachelor (56%) degree,
- Students (63%),
- Single people (59%),
- Edmontonians (58%), and
- Public sector workers (57%).

Approval of Jason Kenney is particularly strong among:
- Those living outside Calgary or Edmonton (51%), and
- Seniors (51%).

Approval of Stephen Mandel is particularly strong among Edmontonians (42%).

Approval of David Khan is particularly strong among single people (27%) and Edmontonians (24%).
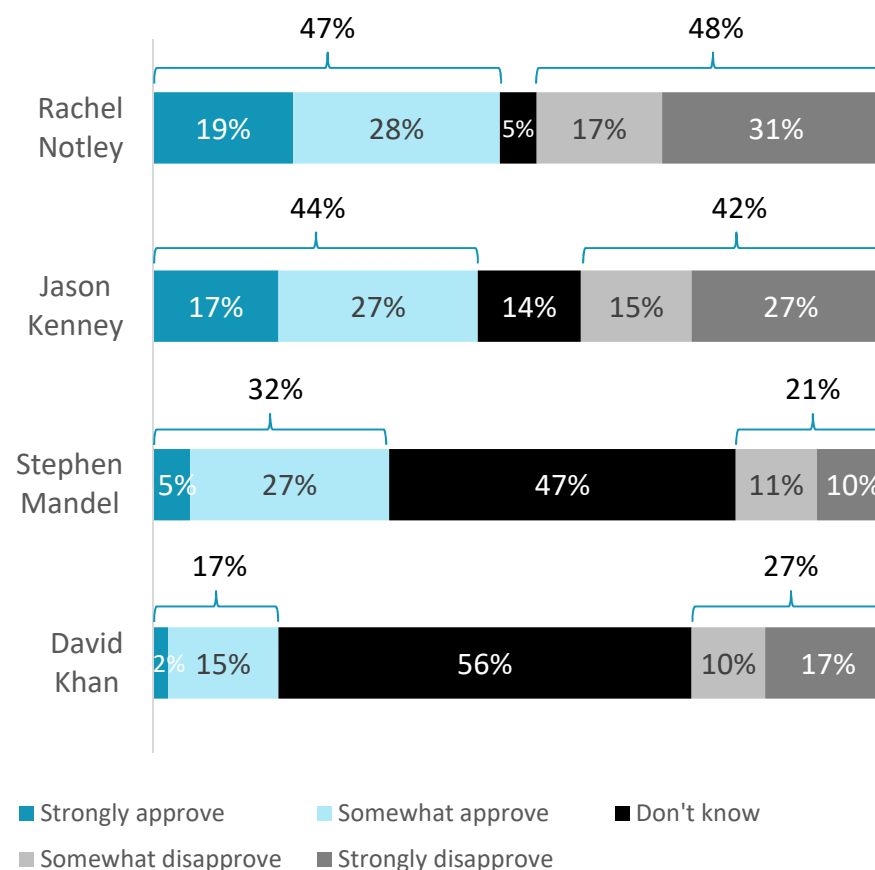

Rachel Notley — 47% / 48%
19% | 28% | 5% | 17% | 31%

Jason Kenney — 44% / 42%
17% | 27% | 14% | 15% | 27%

Stephen Mandel — 32% / 21%
5% | 27% | 47% | 11% | 10%

David Khan — 17% / 27%

Please tell me whether you strongly approve, somewhat approve, somewhat disapprove, or strongly disapprove of the following?

Vote Intention (Decided and Leaning)

As of the second week of the election campaign, the UCP commands the support of 53 per cent of decided and leaning voters. The NDP is 19 points behind at 34 per cent. The Alberta Party is third at eight per cent, and the Liberals are at four per cent. All other parties (including the Greens and the Freedom Conservatives) are at one per cent province-wide.

Results in Calgary are similar to the provincial average, with the UCP holding a 21-point lead over the NDP (53% versus 32%). The NDP has a seven-point lead over the UCP in Edmonton (46% versus 39%). The UCP leads the NDP by 43 points outside the major cities (66% versus 23%).

UCP support is particularly strong among:
- Those living outside Calgary or Edmonton (66%),
- Those with an education of high school or less (63%) or some post-secondary (60%),
- Private-sector workers (61%),
- Those age 45 to 64 (60%) and seniors (58%), and
- Men (58%).

NDP support is particularly strong among:
- Those with a post-graduate degree (57%),
- Public-sector workers (48%),
- Edmontonians (46%), and
- Those age 18 to 24 (44%).

There are no substantively and statistically significant subgroup differences in support for the Alberta Party or the Alberta Liberals.

If these numbers hold, the UCP would win a large majority in the range of 65 to 70 seats out of 87. The NDP would win most of the seats in Edmonton, and the UCP would win almost all seats outside of Edmonton.

A total of 12 per cent of those sampled are currently undecided.
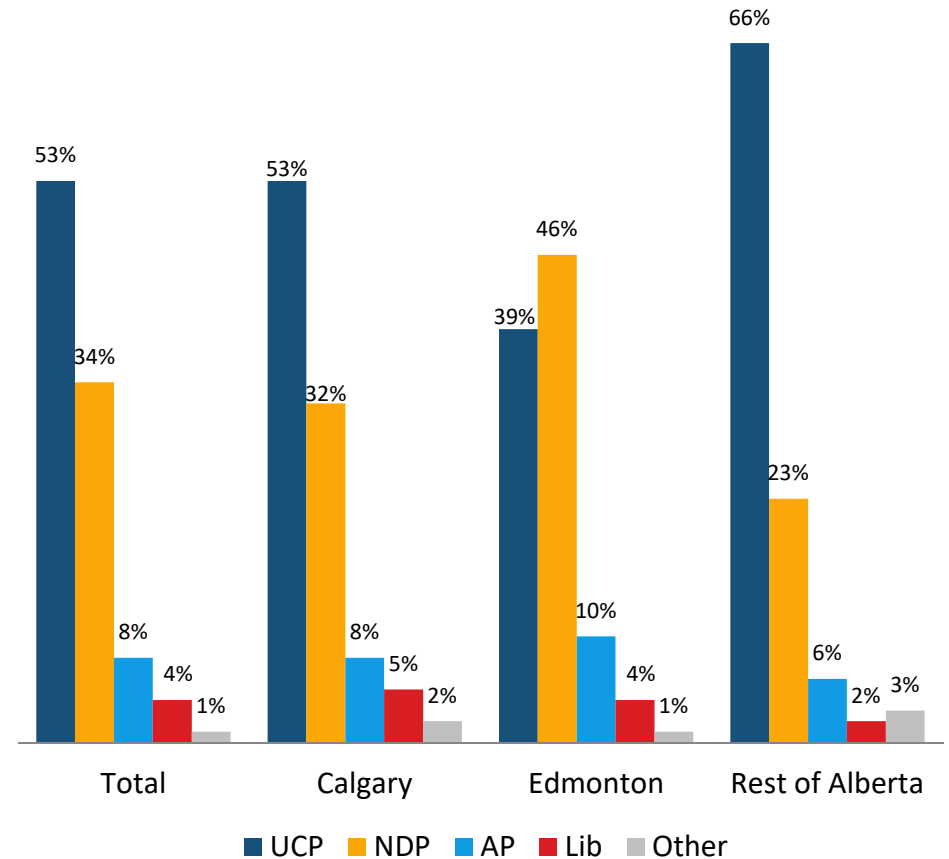

If a provincial election were held in Alberta today, which one of the following parties would you vote for? Perhaps you have not yet made up your mind. Is there nevertheless a party you might be inclined to support?
